It is a great pity that rain has so far interfered with the race, because both men are in excellent condition and each is "out for blood."
Under the circumstances it would certainly seem not only expedient but sportsmanike to postpone the race for a week. A contest such postpone the race for a week. A contest such as it promises to be will assuredly attract a good "gate." At any rate it would be folly to think of running on any local track to-day.

McClelland returned to the city yesterday and never looked better in his life. His party is confident of victory and the same may be said of Nikirk.

SOME TALL BITTING. Old Jeems is Touched Up, But He is Winner.

PEPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATOR A INDIANAPOLIS, June 14.-Pittsburg won a game to-day, after the hottest sort of a fight, and the Indianapolis club asserts loudly to on the part of Lynch lost them the game. In fact, up to the eighth inning it is claimed that Boyle had the game won for Indianapolis; when ancroft, for some indefinite reason, took oyle out of the box and put in Whitney. The Hoosiers went to nieces after that and with the umpiring of Lynch added, were badly wrecked. Hines and Denny covered themselves with glory, hoisting the ball heavenward and over fences to the intense gratification of many admirers. While the home club did some re-markable fielding they were outplayed at almost every point and especially at critical ones:

JIMMY DIDN'T GET RATTLED. Galvin, for the visitors, although hit hard, did not allow himself to get rattled, but played sides came to the game pluckily and ambitiously, and in the first inning remarkably clever work was done, each scoring one. According to well established custom, Sully was the first batsman, and he led off with a grounder to Smith, which retired him to Beckley. Captain Jack smote the first ball delivered to him along the left line, and when Fielder Mau! received it be was safe on second. Smith's fumble gave Jack third and Sullivan first, the former to score on Hines' safe hit and Seery to third on Kuchne's muff of a throw to him. Denny hit to Kuchne, who threw wild the plate, Sullivan crossing the plate, and the other runners landing on third and second. Buckley hit quick to Kenhne, time to crucify the batter. Boyle began his work auspiciously by striking out Hanlon, but Miller, the next batter, bit hard to left for a single, Seery making a good return. Beckley also hit safe, and things did not look so bright.

AN AWFUL FUMBLE of Sunday's grounder, Miller crossing the in two more, Captain Dunlap hit to Bassett and Captain Glasscock could have won glory with a hit, but he did not get it, going outfrom Smith to Beckley.

Pop Smith went to first on balls. Galvin acted as if he did not want to run, aud, as the casiest way out of it, strack out. Kuchne did not follow his example, but plugged out a home run over left, scoring Smith ahead of him. Hanlon bunted, and was thrown out by Buckley. Sullivan saved Miller's hard drive—two for Pittsburg.

In the third, Sullivan went to first on Galvin's wildness, and Mr. Paul Hines did as bad as Kuchne in the preceding inning, byputting the wildness, and Mr. Paul Hines did as bad as Kuchne in the preceding inning, byputting the ball out of the lot. It got to be a fever, and Denny did the same thing on the first ball pitched to him. The crowd enjoyed the sport. Miller's miss of the third strike let Buckley to first, and McGeachy sacrificed. Bassett put a fly in Haulon's trunk, and Boyle another in Dunlap's—three. McGeachy fielded Beckley's aky-scraper, Maul retired from Boyle to Hines, so did Sunday. Nothing for both.

DUNLAP'S BRILLIANT EFFORT. In the fourth, Dunlap, by one of his brilliant plunked out a nice single to center, and Sullivan followed with a long two-base drive to the mme field, but the former was nipped at the plate on Hines' bounder to Smith, and Denny to the same place forced Paul at second—another blank. Dunlap gave Bassett a chance to win applause, and he got it, by a left-mand catch of his liner. Then Secry got a chance, and he put on his wings and few after Smith's fiv, getting it and voeiferous applause. Galvin scratched a hit, but it did him no good, Kuchne going out from Glasscock to Hines. Blank segain. same field, but the former was nipped at the gain.

In the fifth, Buckley died from Kuchne, Mc-leachy hit to Beckley, and Boyle fiew to Sun-ay. Blank. Visitor Haulon fiew to Mc-reachy, and it was a good catch. Miller died rom Glasscock. Beckley made a home run, land hit safe, but Sunday went out Boyle—

In the sixth, Boyle singled, Secry fouled to gathered Sullivan's liner in good shape—blank Modeachy fielded Dunlap out at first by good work, the hit looking safe. Smith flew to Glassoock and Galvin struck out.

work, the hit looking sate. Smith flow to Glasscock and Galvin struck out.

In the seventh, Hines met with a serious accident. A quick throw by Boyle off of Hanlon's bat of a hot liner, split Hines' thumb so badly that he was obliged to retire and Myers was substituted. He will be hors du combat for several days to the sad loss of the Hoosiers. Before Hines' accident he made a brilliant home run, as also did Sullivan in the same inning. The crowd went wild, of course, as those footed up de alcogether. In this inning, notwithstanding the accident to Hines and some questionable umpiring, the Hoosiers scored 6 and Pittsburg did equally as well, leaving the Hoosiers I ahead. The eighth inning wrecked the Hoosiers' hopes. They blanked entirely, and with 4 singles, I base on balls, two Hoosier fielding errors, and a Hoosier's charge. Viale unpiring, the Pittsburgs scooped in 6 runs. The latter would not play in the last inning, and Indianapolis made 1. Score:

STERN'S PLAIN TALK. He Tells How He Wants to Strengthen the Reds. During an interview with a New York reporter President Stern, of the Cincinnati club, said on Friday: "I came here to look for men. I guess you know that, and I made Davidson an offer of $4,000 for Stratton, and had the money ready to hand right over, but was refused, as the Louisvilles intend going on. I am trying to get either Daley, of the Jersey Citys, or Murphy, of the Syracuse club, and I did think Murphy, of the Syracuse club, and I did think something of trying for Hecker and Browning. If I can't get either Daley or Murphy I will quit. I have a half mind to quit right now, anyhow, and carry the present team until the end of the season.

"There is nothing the matter with my outfield, and I don't know of any other men who can field as well as they can and equal them with the stick, and besides there is not much hard hitting now to the outfield. Chestnut or no chestbut, we are in the hardest kind of juck.

with the stock, and oesides there is not much hard hitting now to the outfield. Chestnut or no chestnut, we are is the hardestkind of luck, but I believe the copper will soon be taken off of us. It can't stay there much longer without the people getting on and playing ns to lose, and then the bank will go broke. It isn't because we haven't discipline in the club, for every man does what he is told, and does it cheerfully. I'm doing the best I know how with them, and can't for the life of me see where anything has been left undone.

"I see a story was printed that Von der Ahe and Byrne telegraphed Wikoff not to permit the Louisville releases. You had better contradict it. They are manifesting a great deal of virtuous indignation at my trying to get Stratton, and intimating that such a course would go a long way toward wrecking the Louisvilles, besides being—well, let us call it illegal. All the same, if Louisville will accept my offer and Stratton will sign, I will take all chances on legislation, and feel mentally sure of coming out on top."

Will Play the Standards. William Leng, manager of the Our Boys ball lub, called at this office last evening and left io as a forfeit for his team to play the Standards of the Southside for $50 or $100 a side. Mr. Leng stated that he will be at THE DISPATCH office on Monday evening prepared to sign articles. The Our Boys is undoubtedly one of the best amateur teams in the two cities, and t has any amount of backing.

DIDN'T MAKE THE DEAL. Louisville and Jersey City Fail to Consolidate Other Schemes.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH.1 New York, June 14 .- The story published to-day about the consolidation of the Jersey City and Louisville clubs caused more than the usual stir at the meeting of the American Association, at the Fifth Avenue Hotel. Both Manager Powers and President-Manager Davidson said the story was true, but that the deal had fallen through. Mr. Davidson, it was ex-plained, could not raise a sufficient amount of money to buy the players, and as for consolidation with the Louisville club, it was thought it would be a bad move, now that the club had a chance of playing Sunday games, Both Mr.

chance of playing Sunday games. Both Mr. Powers and Mr. Davidson were in consultation at the Fifth Avenue Hotel this morning, but Mr. Powers said that it was not regarding any deal. He said that he was only arranging some exhibition games with the Louisville club. It was after 10 o'clock before the meeting came to order. The delegates present were Wheeler C. Wickoff, President of the Association; President Chris Von der Ahe, of the St. Louis club; President Davidson, of Louisville; Vice President A. B. Cohen, Columbus; President A. S. halt of Kansas City, the officers of that club being unable to attend.

The purpose of the meeting was to ascertain the ability of the bouisville club to go through the season, and there was no time lost. Mr. Davidson was at once asked to state his ideas as to what he intended to do. He said he was now in a fair way to be able to strengthen the club, and if he could not do so he had several chances to sell out. The meeting then held a secret session, and when they had finished no one seemed to know just what was done. Each of the delegates told a different story, but that told by President Byrne can be more fully relied on. Mr. Byrne said the meeting had decided to let Mr. Davidson go on as long as he failfilled his obligations to the association. There was no objection to Mr. Davidson's strengthening his team or seiling it to parties capable of carrying it on, but they did refuse to have the players peddled out one at a time. If Mr. Davidson tried this, then the Association would take charge of the team and dispose of would take charge of the team and dispose of

A GREAT CONTEST.

Belle Hamlin to Trot Against Harry Wilkes, Best Two in Three.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCE. NEW YORK, June 14 .- Mr. Hamlin prefers to have Harry Wilkes trot against his mare Belle Hamlin, and as appears from this appended letter is ready to make arrangements for match that will be one of the trotting even of the year:

Messrs. Sire Brothers, 183 Broadway, New York—
GENTILEMEN—I have received your letter of the lith inst., accepting my proposition to have the well-deserved leader of the Wilkses meet my mare Belle Hamilin in a mile contest, best two in three. I consider the terms of your acceptance both fair and courteous, and hope we may meet soon to arrange any details that may occur to you or myself. You have very kindly given me my choice between Harry Wilkes and Rosalind Wilkes. As the former by his record has shown himself to be the better horse, I would much prefer to meet him, in which case the honor of a victory, should it come to my mare, will be greater, and on the other hand, defeat by so noble as animal cannot cast discredit. When may I see you to arrange the further details?

Memphis Goes Under. MEMPHIS, June 14.—The Memphis Raseball

Rub, of the Southern League, disbanded at Mobile yesterday, owing to the desertion of fourmembers of the team—Boone and Smith, pitchers; McBride, left fielder, and Granlick. pitchers; McBride, left fielder, and Granlick, catcher—all of whom signed with Mobile. Five members of the team arrived here to-night to get what money is due them, and secure other positions by telegraph if possible.

St. Paul offered $350 for Pitcher Bausewine, and Manager Davidson, of Louisville, wrote the secretary of the club asking what he could buy the whole team for. A telegram was sent him to-day naming $900 as the price. Of course both deals are now off, as the Memphis club could not deliver the goods. The stockholders of the club are out about $2,000 on the experiment. Baseball is dead in Memphis for years to come.

An Allegation of Bigamy is Now Mixed Up in the Matter.

District Attorney Fellows Pulls Witness Howard Over the Coals. The more light that is turned on the electric sugar refining scheme the more fraudulent it appears. The evidence yesterday was very strong against Mr. Cotterill, President of the defunct company. A charge of bigamy was introduced against Howard, who was on the witness stand.

ISPECIAL TELEGRAM TO THE DISPATCH. NEW YORK, June 14 .- District Attorney Fellows got at Parson Howard to-day in the Howards trial in the General Sessions. Howard testified that after the death of Prof. Friend in March, 1888, he succeeded to the Professor's right, title and interest in the fitting up of the factory for chain lightning sugar refining, and in the nine months before the exposure came he had contrived medal.

Under cross-examination Howard testified that in 1868 he left Rhode Island for the West. He left a wife and children there. They never joined him in the West. He could not remember just when he mar-ried his present wife, and he did not know when his Rhode Island wife died. He learned of her death from letters of "some parties." He couldn't swear that he had not married again before his wife's death. He thought it was in Joliet he married his present wife. He could not say exactly who of the peace, but he could not remember his He could not say whether this wife had husband living or not at the time that he married her. Howard next testified that he first went to Battle Creek, Mich., when he went West and worked as a day laborer on a hotel. When the hotel was built he was employed as a clerk. He was also an agent for the sale of lightning rods, and coinci-dentally carried on his vocation as a Free Baptist preacher.

After recess Colonel Follows remorselessly demanded to know if Howard had sworn by the uplifted hand, because he regarded an oath taken in this way as less binding.
"No, siree," replied Howard, "I'll kiss

the Bible now if you say so." SOME TALL FIGURING. He testified next that, as a result of "fig gering," he had made out the sum of $19,-000 instead of $51,000 as his total receipts from the stockholders in Friend's chain lightning process. He had no doubt that Prof. Friend had a genuine process. But when Colonel Fellows confronted him with a letter to Cotterill, in which he said that he did not care about getting hold of the "key" to the formula, because it was not worth a postage stamp; that he could work the process without Friend or Mrs. Howard, and that if Friend taied to be 'muley" about it he could "uker" him. He explained that he meant that be could work the process well enough to suit Cot

He was the greatest man for euchreing people you ever saw. He said he never got after a man yet that he didn't euchre him." "I don't think you got your way of spelling euchre from him, though," rejoined

Colonel Fellows.
"Maybe I didn't," growled Howard, nettled by the laughter that his spelling evoked. A little later he burst out with: "There is something behind this. Cotterill was responsible for everything. I'm being made the butt of the whole thing. He was as much implicated as I was, I tell you, and maybe more so.

AUSTIN, TEX., June 14.-Meager details of a bloody affray, last evening, at Given's store, 18 miles southeast of here, reached this city this morning. It seems that a colored constable named Wilson undertook to arrest a white man whom he charged with horse theft. The man resisted and a general fight ensued between him and his friends and the constable and his friends. Six-shooters were used freely, and four white men and two negroes were killed outright, while at least a dozen others were wounded, some probably fatally. Deputy Sheriff Johnson and posse left here at 11 o'clock for the scene of the conflict.

WHY HE WAS SUSPENDED.

John Phillips Will Not Attend the Convention of Window Workers. "John Phillips was suspended from L. A. 300 for a purpose," a member of the Central Trades Council said last night, and he proceeded to explain: "The mere fact of his testifying to what he knew of the importation of the for-eign glass blowers," said he, "was not sufficient grounds for suspension. There is something else behind that. The members of the Window Glass Workers' Association who do not want to have the charges investigated do want to have the charges investigated do not want to have Mr. Phillips in their annual convention, which meets here next month. According to the laws of the organization a suspended member cannot attend a convention, and he will therefore be compelled to remain outside. We have nothing against President Campbell, and do not want to prosecute or persecute him. We merely shall insist that all of the imported glass blowers be compelled to return to their native country." A Reception for John Jarrett.
